Unfolds....

Mr. Bauer greets the new teachers, as they begin the school year. Mr. Otis J. Stultz, Mr. Albert R. Crouch, Mrs. Martha Shelton, and Mr. M. E. Newcomb.

The Danville Life Saving Crew attends Aubrey Barnes who suffered a sprained ankle in the first football game of the season.

Step- By- Step

Foreword

Every day Brosville students open lockers, report to classes, take tests, change classes, and stand in line in the cafeteria in a practically unchangeable pattern. The varying of the pattern comes through the special activities such as ballgames, dances, and special programs.

Many of us go through our school activities only half aware of what is going on; while to others, events pass in a whirl of actions.

How many of the school activities do you remember? How many of the amusing incidents can you recall?

In this edition of the Brosville Topper we have attempted to capture the activities which made up this year. Come with us now As Our Year Unfolds Step by Step.

The elementary building houses the principal's office, the library, and several high school class rooms.

Our School Plant

Several physical education classes meet on the athletic field on which lights were recently installed.

Do you remember the buildings which house our school plant?

Most of the academic courses are taught in the main high school building which has been in use since 1925. This building also contains the gym which doubles as an auditorium.

The elementary building offers classroom space for commercial subjects, the library, and the principal's office, and it also houses the school cafeteria.

The shop, cannery, band cottage and home economics cottage also provide space for academic classes.

The home economic building has been in use since 1954 before which time it served as the principal's home. It has two kitchens and classroom space on the lower floor and sewing rooms on the upper floor. Prior to 1954, home economics classes met in a smaller cottage which now serves as a rehearsal room for the band and glee club.

The recently lighted activities field provides space for physical education classes and for the football and baseball teams.

Do you remember the classes which were taught in each of these buildings?

This is the Agriculture Building and shop which often doubles as a classroom.

Brosville's girls practice the arts of homemaking in the Home Economics Cottage.

Alma Mater

On the county's southern border
Braced against the sky,
Proudly stands out Alma Mater
As the years go by.

Forward, ever, be our progress
Conquer and prevail.
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
Brosville High, all hail.

In addition to being the rehearsal room for the band and glee club, the cottage is used for several classes.

In winter the cannery becomes a U.S. History classroom.

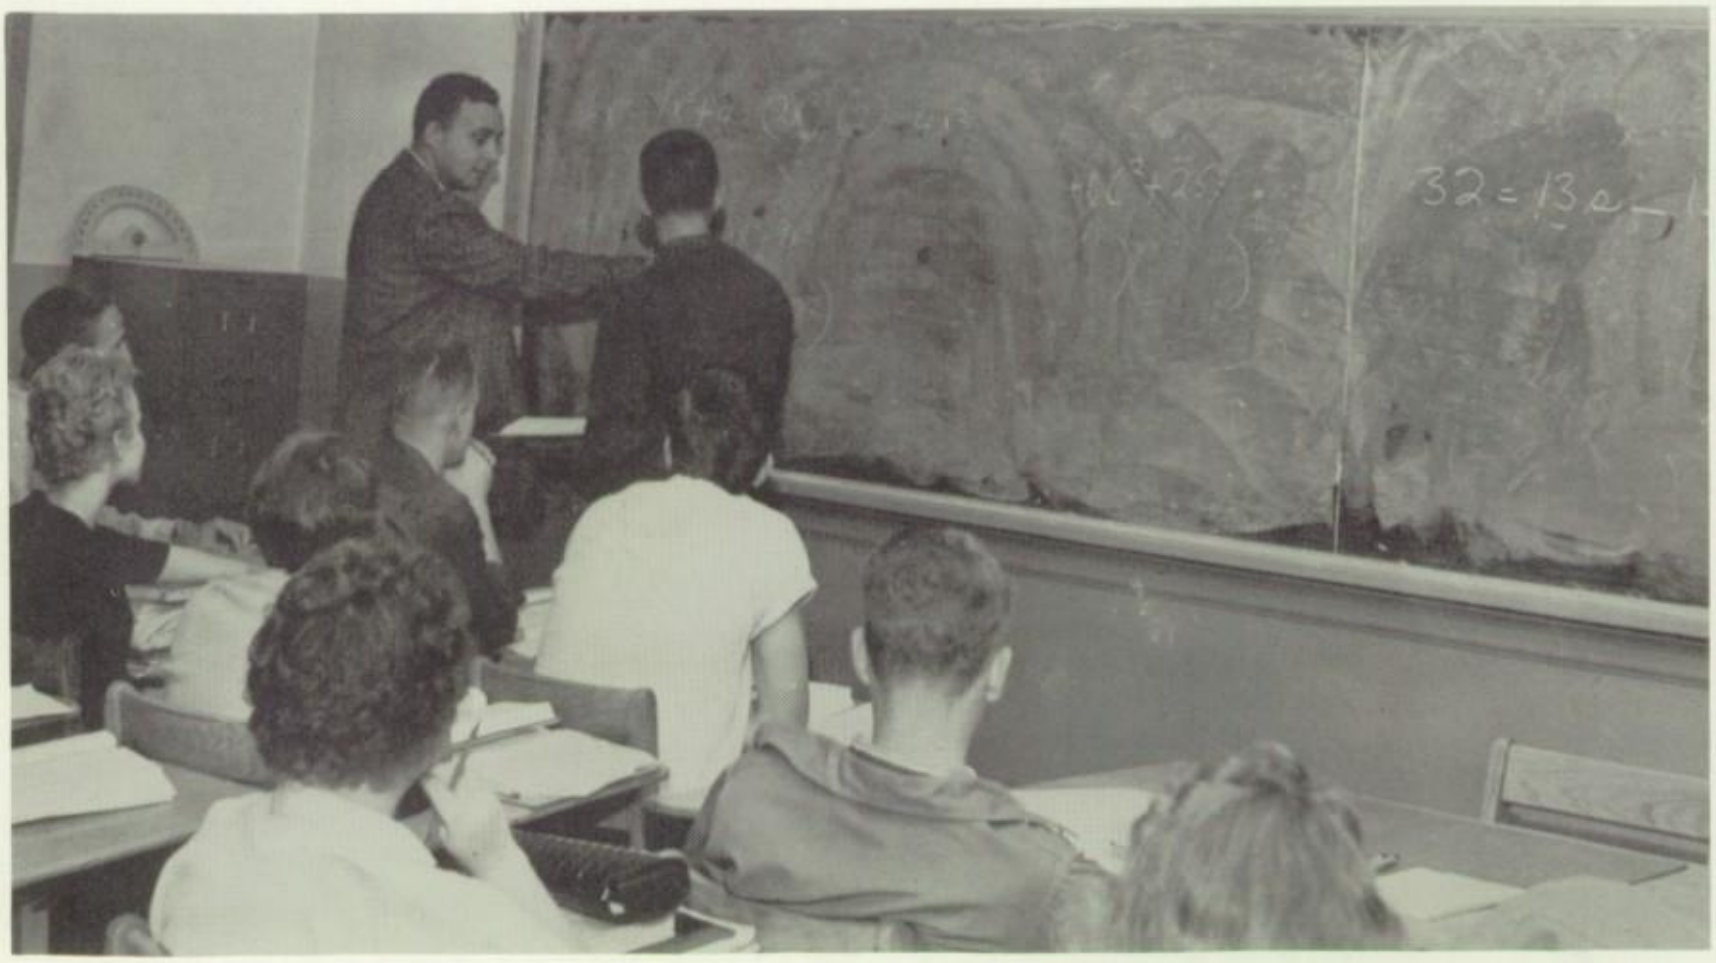
In How Many Ways Do You... Remember Your School?

Mrs. Soyars, an English teacher, is shown at her desk while teaching "Macbeth".

Do you remember the everyday classes and the special activities?

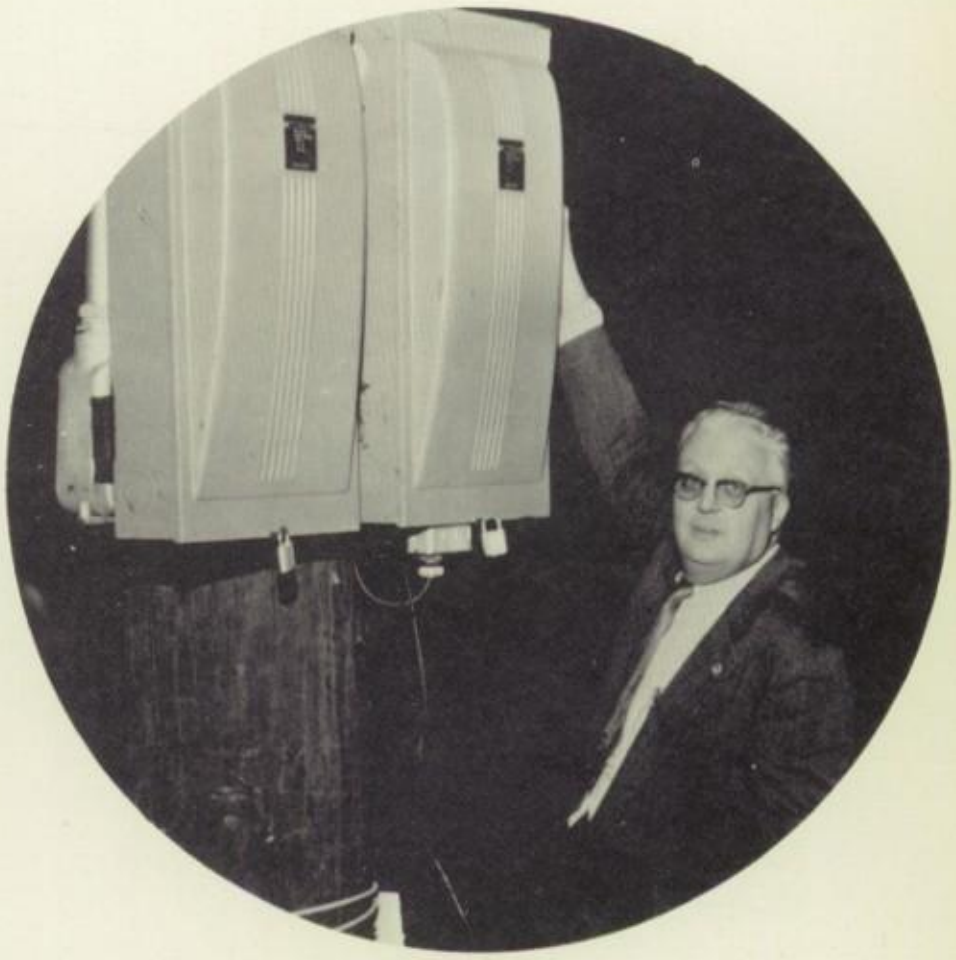
Have you noticed students watching the board trying to comprehend what that math teacher is explaining? Or have you seen students studying forms for diagramming sentences? You should recall the trouble those students had trying to pronounce French words or attempting to translate a paragraph from Latin. Do you remember the field trips the classes took during the year? The government class went to the station to see and hear Senator Johnson; the general business class toured the bank. Do you remember the mock election sponsored by the government class? It was carried out as nearly as possible like a real election so that the students would gain experience in voting. These things, along with the practical experience gained in home economics and agricultural classes, go to make the classes of B.H.S. students.

Mr. Hodges is explaining Algebra II to Dallas McElheney and the other class members.



Barbara Farmer and Charles McElheney, along with the other students, go through the cafeteria lunch line.

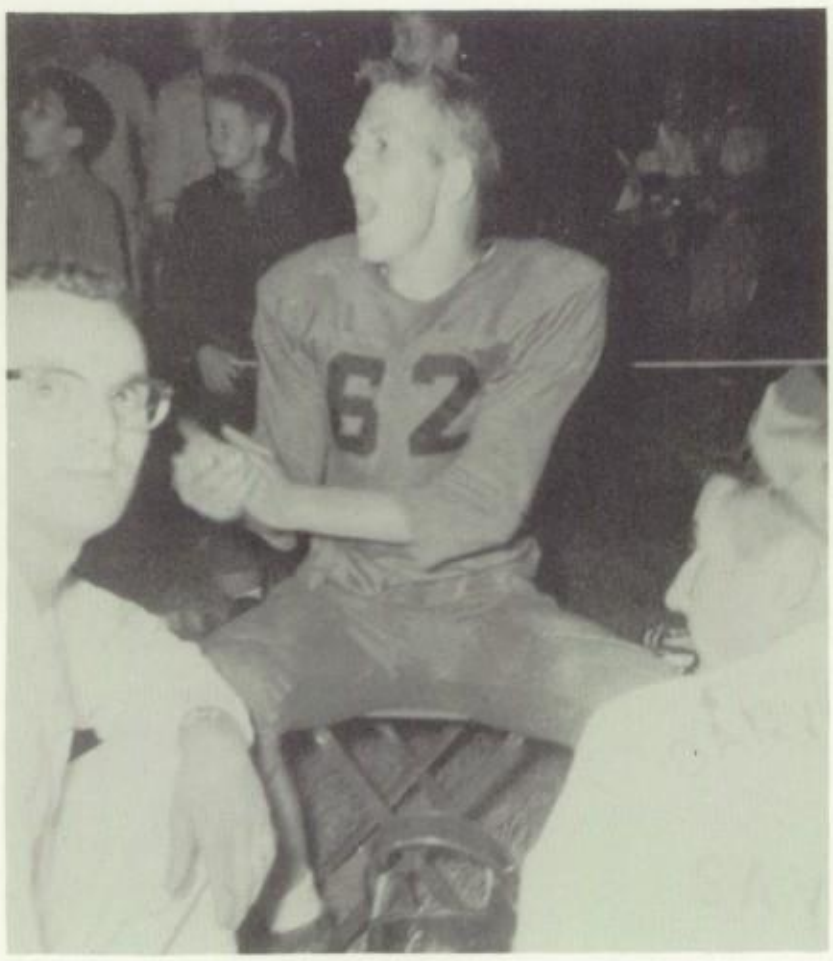
But there comes variation to the pattern-the special activities. Do you remember decorating for the school dances? Have you noticed that students inevitably wait until the last moment to plan for such activities? Can you recall the excitement of candidates waiting for the day when they will be notified as to who received Senior Sweetheart or Home Coming Queen? Do you remember the social affairs sponsored by the classes and clubs and do you remember the money-making projects which made them possible? Do you remember assembly programs? The classes and organizations worked hard to present them for your enjoyment.



Mr. Bauer pulls the switch to light the activities field shortly before the dedication of the lights.

The senior sweetheart and her attendants dance with their escorts at the Senior Dance, one of the social affairs of the year.

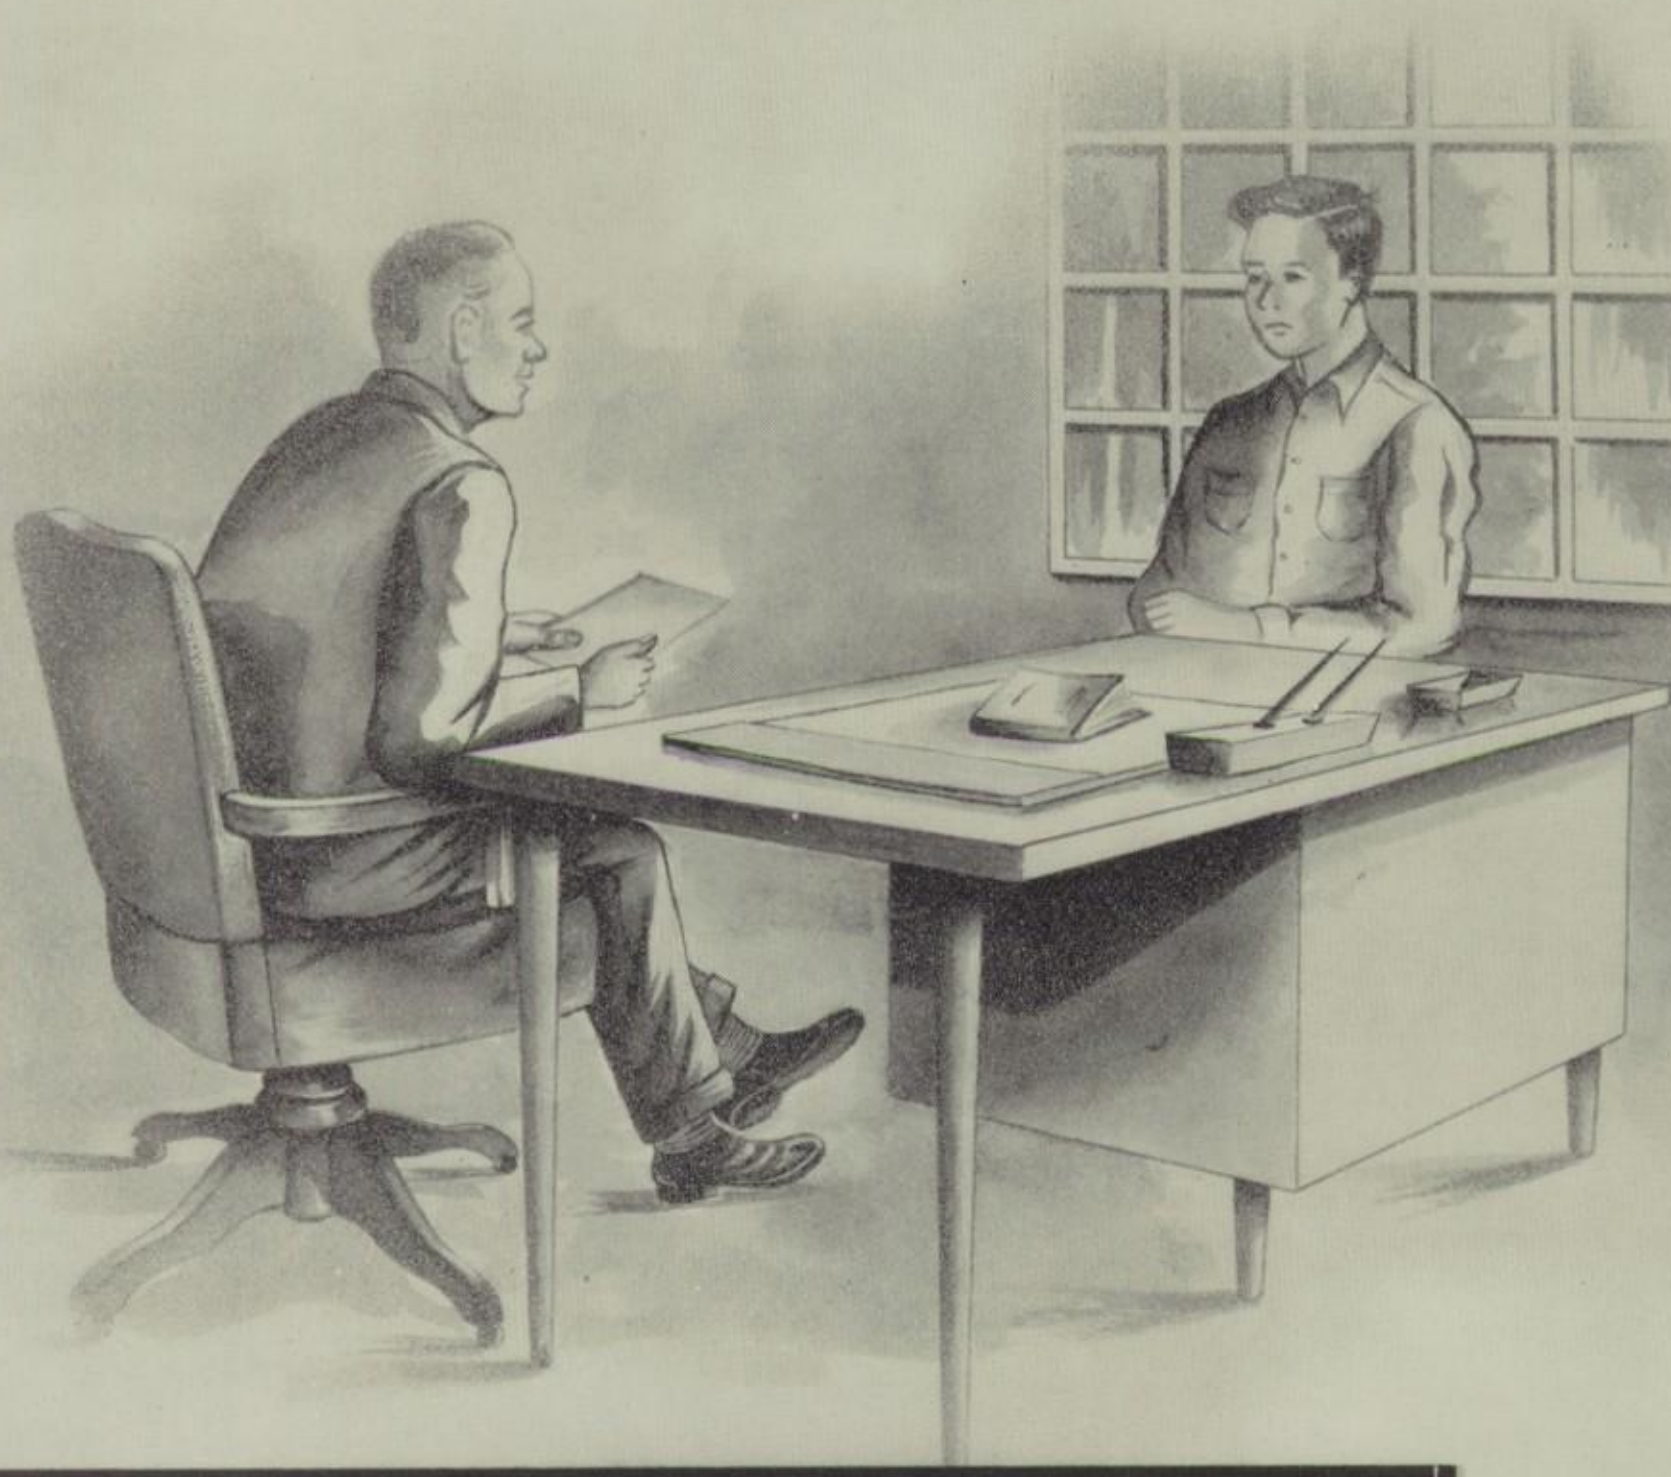
Aubrey Barnes, injured in play, cheers his teammates on to victory.



And Atheltic Social, Activities

Do you remember the athletic activities? You must recall that soreness after those first practices, those nerves before each game, and the anxiety during each game. Can you recall how the spectators joyously cheered the players on to victory or how they cheered them on even though it seemed a hopeless cause? Do you remember the exultation of everyone as the team won that game with a smashing victory?

Do you remember life in all its different phases at Brosville during the year of 1960-61?



Administration

Administratrative-

Mrs. Dixon and Mr. Bauer pause from their numerous office activities to pose for our camera.

Do you remember the teachers?

There were twenty-one members of Brosville's faculty. Sixteen of these returned from last year, four came as new teachers, and one returned after a leave of absence.

The new teachers this year were Mrs. Shelton, Mr. Crouch, Mr. Stultz and Mr. Newcomb. Teaching French, English, and social studies, Mr. Crouch came to us from Bridgewater College where he received his B.A. degree. Mrs. Shelton taught physical education and science. A Baptist minister from Axton, Mr. Newcomb, became the second member of the mathematics department. In addition to teaching commercial subjects, Mr. Stultz took over the responsibilities of advising the Buzz Staff.

Of the returning teachers, several acquired degrees during the summer. Mrs. Moore received her B.A. degree from Longwood College. In June, Mr. Hodges was awarded his B.S. degree from Lynchburg College.

The Brosville faculty members worked together with the students during the year to plan and carry out activities for the enjoyment and interest of the students and parents of the school.

How well do you remember their work?

Maintentenance Staff

Do you remember the school workers and bus drivers?

Our cafeteria was operated under the direction of Mrs. Ina Gatewood with the assistance of Mrs. Alma Long and Mrs. Clarice DeHart. Helping these workers were Mrs. Delsie Adams and Mrs. Ella Smith. Aiding in the serving were many girls in the upper elementary grades and in high school.

Maid for the school was Mrs. Sarah Keen. Among her duties were sweeping and dusting the rooms and halls, cleaning windows, and sweeping the walks. Sarah could be heard singing almost any time you saw her.

Mr. Wesley Owen served as custodian of the school. It was he who was responsible for heating the rooms, mowing the grass, clipping the shrubs, and other such jobs necessary for the good appearance of the school.

Do you remember them for their work?

Mrs. Ina Gatewood, cafeteria manager, is instructing Mrs. Clarice DeHart and Mrs. Alma Long, assistants, in the preparation of food.

Going about their daily chores are Mrs. Delsie Adams and Mrs. Ella Smith, cafeteria workers, and Mrs. Sarah Keen, maid.

Mr. Wesley Owen, school custodian, is pictured carrying out one of his many tasks, caring for the grounds.

Classes

The senior class this year numbered 67. The class lost several of its members between the junior and senior years, but three more were added to its number by transfer.

Early in the fall the class met and elected the officers whom they felt could best lead them through this all important year. Aubrey Barnes was elected by his classmates to serve in the capacity of president. Those who were chosen to assist him were: Sue Yoder, vice-president; Joy Lou Davis, secretary; Joan McDaniel, treasurer; and Sam Boyd, reporter.

At the same meeting committees were appointed to plan the senior dance which was held on October 1. At a later meeting candidates for senior sweetheart were selected.

For the dance the cafeteria was decorated with green and white streamers and Japanese lanterns. The sweetheart's corner was decorated with autumn flowers, a trelis covered with flowers and bows, and a throne covered with white paper and green bows.

Patsy Lee Moss reigned as senior sweetheart and her attendants were Linda Walker, Joan McDaniel, Norma Keatts, and Gail Inman. Refreshments were sold by members of the class to help make money. Music for the dance was furnished by John Irvine.

Among the projects of the class to raise money was the sale of stationery and greeting cards. The members of the class worked through the fall and winter months to sell the greeting cards left to them by the preceding senior class and to take orders for stationery, plain and personalized, informal notes, and napkins.

The officers worked diligently with the class to plan the money-making projects and activities for the enjoyment of the class -- the senior trip, class day, and the commencement exercises.

Seniors Planned Trip

During their junior year the senior class chose a motto, class colors, and a class flower, which they carried with them through their senior year. The chosen colors were mint green and white; the flower was a white rose; and the motto was "In ourselves our future lies."

In November the class members placed the order for their calling cards and graduation invitations. These they chose from the many illustrated in the catalog.

During the year many of the seniors took the State Employment Agency Aptitude Test to determine the jobs for which they were best suited.

Many other students decided to further their education by entering college in the summer or fall. To help them in their choice of a college many of them visited college campuses during high school weekends. Others gained valuable information from the Pittsylvania County College Night Program or through the guidance department of the school. To meet the entrance requirements those interested in college registered for and took the College Entrance Examination Board Examinations.

The senior class was privileged to have as its sponsors, Mrs. Frances H. Moore and Mrs. Louise M. Soyars, who gave of their valuable time to make this a successful year for the entire class.

As their first project of the year the freshman class held a brunswick stew at the October PTA meeting. Although the day dawned cloudy, they cooked the stew inside and received valuable returns from their efforts. This money they will keep in their treasury until their junior year when it will be spent for the traditional Junior-Senior Banquet.

Early in November the freshman class had their turn at presenting an assembly. They introduced, as their guest speaker, Dr. Orson B. Newton, pastor of Piney Forest Methodist Church.

Other projects, including an end-of-the-year picnic, completed the year's agenda.

Eighth Grade Assembly

The officers of the eighth grade, elected in the fall, were: Linda Gray, treasurer; Linda Turman, vice-president; Susan Farmer, president; and Janie Gunnells, secretary.

After their election, the officers worked with the class to plan their year's work. As one of their projects they presented an assembly at Thanksgiving. After devotions, the president introduced the Rev. Joseph Hough, associate minister of First Baptist Church, as guest speaker.

To add to their enjoyment the eighth grade also had a Christmas party and a picnic at the end of the year.

The officers of the Brosville Chapter of Future Homemakers of America met for an executive planning meeting early in the year to plan activities for the attainment of the F.H.A. goals for the year 1960-61.

With Sandra Hyler as their leader the members of the F.H.A. plunged into a program of work which they hoped would prove to be worthwhile to themselves and their community.

Have Busy Year

For the first program of the year the F.H.A. heard the Reverend George Rumney, pastor of Keen Street Baptist Church, speak on youth marriages, a subject which bears much importance to young people. In later meetings Mrs. Martha Clark talked about making simple Christmas decorations; a panel of young homemakers discussed problems in young marriages; a panel discussed family problems; Mrs. Rickman talked on available careers in home economics; and members of the life-saving crew talked about civil defense.

Some of the worthwhile activities of the F.H.A. consisted of contributing food to a needy family at Christmas, making a contribution to CARE, and having a Mother-Daughter Banquet.

During National F.H.A. week the members participated in the preparation of bulletin boards, the presentation of a radio program and devotions over the intercom, and the honoring of teachers through Teacher Appreciation Day and a faculty tea.

The Brosville Chapter of Future Homemakers of America is affiliated with the Piedmont Federation, for which Sandra Hyler served as vice-president.

This year the chapter was sponsored by Mrs. Mary S. Coleman and Mrs. Mozelle R. Oakes.

Monogram Club Sponsored Homecoming

The Brosville Monogram Club which was organized in 1958, is sponsored by Mrs. Gwyneth Barber, Mr. Tom Welborn, and Mr. Gerald Adams and this year has about twenty-five members. The Monogram Club is composed of students who have earned letters in athletic activities within the school.

Among the activities carried on by the club was the sponsoring of the Homecoming activities. These consisted of the crowning of a Homecoming Queen at halftime of the football game and a dance immediately following it. Another of the Monogram Club's activities was the intramural games. These are competetive games between teams from each high school grade.

The climax of the athletic year is the awarding of school letters to those who have qualified for them in the various sports. These awards were made at the final assembly program of the year, which was sponsored by the Monogram Club.

At the Monogram sponsored Homecoming Dance, John Irvine, played the records on his home built turntable and amplifier set.

Library Club Grew In Membership

In previous years the Brosville Library Club has only been open to library workers. This year the club enlarged its membership to include all interested students and officially organized for the benefit of the school.

The newly elected president and parliamentarian met in the fall of the year and drew up a suitable constitution which was read and accepted at the second regular meeting. The members decided upon the amount of dues, when they should be paid, and how they should be used.

The Library Club members offered their services in the way of reading and telling poems and stories to children in the primary grades and mending books for all of the elementary grades. In addition to these activities the club members helped in the library when ever possible for them to do so.

Library Club members Dianne Barbour and Linda DeHart work at the desk in the library as Gail Inman checks out a book.

Third row: Charles McElheney and Barbara Farmer, co-sports editor; Kenneth Hutherson, proofreader; Patsy Daniels and Barbara Scott, club reporters.

Buzz Staff Attended Newspaper Clinic At University Of Richmond

With the publication of seven issues as their goal, the members of the Brosville Buzz Staff deligently set to work at the beginning of the school session. Assignments were posted and as reporters began turning them in, fingers flew over the keys as the typists used every available minute to type them up.

To aid them in the writing of news and feature articles, Martha Hanks, Larry Weatherford, Sandra Ashworth, Kenneth Raines, Sandra P. Hyler, and Mr. Otis J. Stultz, sponsor, attended a newspaper clinic at the University of Richmond. There they were given pointers by outstanding newspaper men.

The highlight of the Buzz staff program was the annual subscribers dance which was held on February 18, 1961.

Martha Hanks, editor, and Larry Weatherford, business manager work together to plan ad arrangement for the Buzz.

S.C.A. Worked Toward Better School Spirit

The Brosville Student Co-operative Association was organized in the fall of 1958 and has been in operation since that time. This organization, under the direction of Mr. Gerald Adams, is primarily concerned with influencing the students to maintain a desirable atmosphere in the school.

This year the S.C.A. executive committee, composed of the officers and homeroom representatives, presented a plan to the student body to get salt back on the cafeteria tables. The committee also decided that the Homecoming Queen rather than the Harvest Festival Queen should ride in the Christmas Parade as Miss Brosville.

As has been the policy since its organization, the S.C.A. sponsored May Day activities this year. The executive committee also worked toward their goal of acquiring a judicial branch for the S.C.A. In their meetings they discussed ways of improving student-teacher relations and ways of acquainting the students with the operation of executive and judicial branches of the S.C.A.

F.T.A. Planned "Sadie Hawkins Day" Dance

Beginning the year with a new sponsor, Mrs. Myrtle T. Swan, the Brosville chapter of Future Teachers of America began its program of work for the year, 1960-61.

The more than thirty members set out to prove their interest in teaching as a career by filling in for teachers when needed and by studying the qualifications and techniques of good teachers.

During National F.T.A. Week, the local chapter presented an assembly with teaching as a theme. The week's other activities included a faculty tea and student teaching.

As a social function the F.T.A. sponsored a delayed Sadie Hawkins Day Dance complete with a Sadie Hawkins race. At the end of the school year the F.T.A. members and their guests were entertained at a club social at the park.

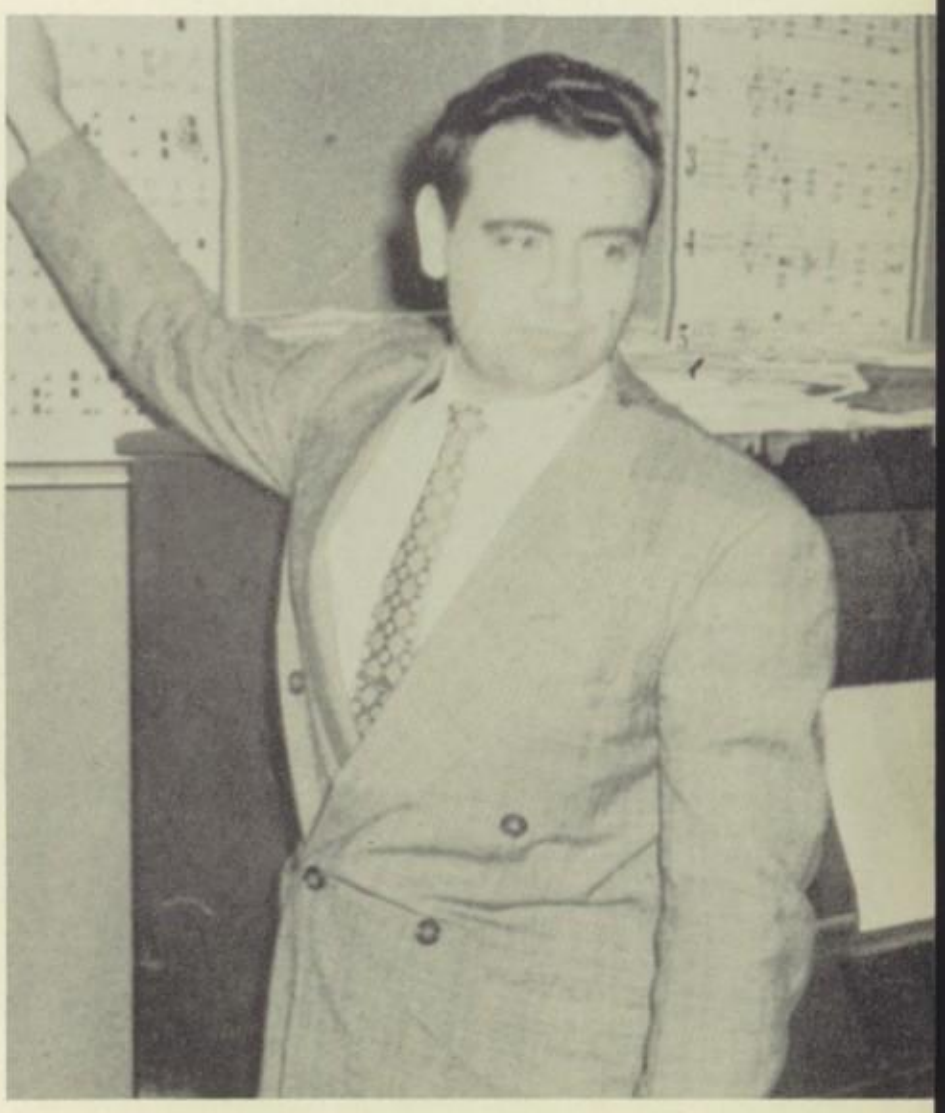
Band Participated In County-Wide Music Festivals

Mr. Heffinger, band director, uses several wall charts in the instruction of band students.



Numbering twenty-one this year, the band was composed of high school and elementary students who were interested in music.

Under the direction of Mr. James Heffinger, the band was made up of seven different instruments, ranging from flutes and clarinets to saxophones and basshorns. A variety of semi-classical, popular, and standard music was played by the band.

Organized in 1953, the band in the past years has participated in numerous activities in the school and in the county. This year was no exception. At Christmas the band played in the County-wide Christmas Music Festival, the P.T.A. program, and the assembly program. It also participated in the County-wide Spring Music Festival and other P.T.A. and assembly programs.

The band meets daily for rehearsal of their numbers. High school students gain one-half credit toward graduation for their participation in the band.

First row: Gail Parrish, Sandra Taylor, Sandra Hyler, Patsy Burnette, Patricia Hicks, Sue Yoder, Julia Haley, Lundy Shakelford. Second row: Jane Dalton, Linda Walker, Lucy Williams, Norma Keatts, Mary Matherly, Becky Alcorn, Carolyn Brown, Nancy Gray. Glee Club Presented Christmas Assembly Program

Pictured is the Glee Club at its Christmas program for the school at which they did "The Twelve Days of Christmas."

The Brosville Glee Club, which was directed by Mr. James Heffinger, was this year composed of about thirty-five students. This group met daily for rehearsal of numbers for their own enjoyment and for presentation at special programs during the year. Each student earned one-half credit toward graduation for his participation in Glee Club.

In addition to participation in the traditional Christmas and Spring County-wide Music Festivals, the Glee Club presented several P.T.A. and assembly programs. In the fall the Glee Club went to Charlottesville, Virginia to sing with a composite group of Virginia Glee Clubs at the University of Virginia-Maryland football game.

The Glee Club elected Sandra P. Hyler to lead them in the capacity of president. Accompanists for the group were Sandra Ashworth and Jane Dalton.

F.F.A. Worked For Better Community Appearance

The Brosville chapter of Future Farmers of America, under the direction of Mr. Robert Carty, is an organization of boys who are interested in agriculture and in farming as a career. The organization this year numbers thirty-one in membership.

The F.F.A. boys have special projects which include raising of livestock and entering them in the Danville Fair. Many boys win prizes each year for their calves.

As a special project this year the Brosville Ruritan Club provided two hereford calves for F.F.A. members to raise.

The F.F.A. members planted mailbox posts as one of their projects for the better appearance of the community. They also planted some posts to indicate parking places near the home economics cottage.

During the year F.F.A. boys work with Mr. Carty, to build drawers, shelves, or other necessary items for the home economics department or for decorations for parties or plays.

The F.F.A. officers were: Eugene Stowe, Vice-President; Mr. Carty, Sponsor; Jimmy Long, Secretary; Glynn Soyars, President; Harold Davis, Reporter; Randy Soyars, Treasurer; and James Thompson, sentinel.

Leadership, character, and achievement are the qualities promoted by the National Beta Club with which the Brosville chapter is affiliated. In addition to possessing these worthy qualities, Beta members must maintain a 90 average or better. The Beta Club strives to promote high scholastic averages and the continuing of education after high school.

For the first time in many years Brosville Betas had the priviledge of sponsoring the Pittsylvania Beta Federation. Carrie Lee Wilson served as president and Joy Lou Davis as secretary. The program for the fall federation meeting was a semi-formal Beta Dance held in the Chatham Armory. The Brosville chapter decorated for the dance, the Dan River chapter served refreshments, and Gretna chapter provided the music.

Pittsylvania County Beta Federation

In order to send delegates to the state convention, the Brosville Beta Club had a bake sale at a P.T.A. meeting and also sponsored a social function for the school. Each member brought a cake or pie to the November P.T.A. meeting and these were sold whole to the patrons. The social function, a semi-formal dance, was held in the school cafeteria on February 24 from 8 til 10:30.

Other activities carried on by the Beta Club during the year were a White Christmas project, the awarding of an outstanding student award, and a club picnic at the end of the year. Carrie Lee Wilson, federation president, spoke over the local radio station, W.B.T.M., in support of the School Bond Referendum. The Betas also presented the April assembly program which consisted of a brief program based on the Beta standards and the yearly induction ceremony. Reservations were made for eight Beta members and the sponsor at Hotel Richmond for the state convention. The club paid part of the expenses from funds they acquired during the year. The rest was paid by the delegates themselves.

The Brosville Beta chapter had a membership of twenty-five this year and was sponsored by Mrs. Frances H. Moore and Mr. M. E. Newcomb.

Members Of "Topper" Staff Attended S.I.P.A. Convention

Judy Powell, Carrie Lee Wilson, Joy Lou Davis, and Carolyn Wall, unload a shipment of yearbooks for distribution in the school.

On the first day of school in the fall of 1960 Judy Powell, editor, approached Sandra Ashworth, copyist, with the words, "Write me some copy," And so the members of the Topper Staff began work to meet their deadlines and have their annual published on time.

After the dummy was laid out, staff members went about their tasks, writing copy, taking pictures, drawing lay-out, labeling pictures, and typing copy. At the same time the business staff went to work selling ads, drawing ad pages, selling subscriptions, and keeping records of such.

In early October Delmar's photographer came to take individual pictures and pictures of the school buildings. Carl Furgurson, a Danville commercial photographer, came many times during the year to take pictures of clubs and other groups.

During the year the staff members met several times-once at the home of the Sponsor, Mrs. Louise Soyars-to do last minute work for deadlines. And contrary to past policies, deadlines were met and the pages were mailed to reach Delmar in time for careful publication.

In the spring of the year, the Topper Staff sent the managers of the next year to the S.I.P.A. convention to get pointers and to learn the right and wrong ways of laying out a yearbook and printing it.

French Club Organized To Promote Interest In The French Language

The newly organized French Club had its beginning in the fall of 1960 with Mr. Albert R. Crouch as its sponsor. The club membership consisted of the first and second year French students. Officers were elected in the classes with the officers of President, Vice-President, and Parliamentarian being filled from French II and those of Secretary, Treasurer, and Reporter from French I.

The first meeting was held at the Sponsor's home and those following were held at the homes of various club members. The purpose of the club was to promote interest in the French language, customs, and people. As part of the program the club members learned some simple French songs.

Ninth Grade 4-H Club Heard Guest Speakers

Brosville's Ninth Grade 4-H Club was composed of twenty-five members this year. The purpose of this club was to continue projects in homemaking and agriculture which were begun in elementary and eighth grade 4-H Clubs.

On several occasions throughout the year guest speakers were invited to speak to the club. These spoke on topics pretaining to the projects taken up by the club members. These talks helped the members to carry out their projects. The club members took up such projects as cooking, sewing, gardening, and electricity.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Tom Welborn, the club held monthly meetings to carry out its business. The organization was directed by county agents, Mr. Robert Blanton and Mrs. Suzanne Perry.

Eighth Grade 4-H Was 60 Members Strong

Organized for the second year Brosville's eighth grade 4-H Club had about 60 members. This club was organized for the purpose of continuing 4-H work.

The officers elected by the club members were: Julian Lillard, President; Ashley Weatherford, Vice-President; Linda Gray, Secretary; Nancy Scearce, Treasurer; Micheal Presley and Janet Compton, Song Leaders.

The eighth grade 4-H club met monthly for business and programs which included lectures, group discussion, singing, and demonstrations about projects. Some of the projects taken by the club members included electricity, Jr. leadership, and safety.

Mr. Tom Welborn served as sponsor for the club while Mr. Robert Blanton and Mrs. Suzanne Perry, county agents, directed its work.

Congress Convened In Third Period Government Class

With a shuffling of feet, the representatives from the various states rose as Speaker of the House Gerald Adams entered the door, thus bringing to order the second day in the current session of Congress. Chaplain Carrie Lee Wilson opened the session with a brief prayer.

The first bill on the agenda called for the allotment of twenty billion dollars over a five year period for teachers' salaries. After a meeting of the Appropriations Committee, to which the bill was referred, and open discussion on the House floor, the bill was passed and sent to the Senate.

The Senate passed the bill with the stipulation that this money be given only to States with nonsegregated schools and sent the bill back to the House for approval. The House voted the bill down and called for a joint compromise committee. The committee decided that the amount of money be lowered to five billion dollars, but be offered to all states. After being printed the bill was approved and signed by President J. Robert Reece.

This history making session of Congress took place in the 3rd period U.S. government class during the study of "Congress in Session." Mr. Adams, the teacher, organized the class into a model of the House of Representatives in order that the class members might better understand the passing of bills through Congress.

Representatives Sandra Ashworth and Jimmy Long are being sworn in by Speaker-of-the-House Gerald Adams as Congress convenes on the second day.

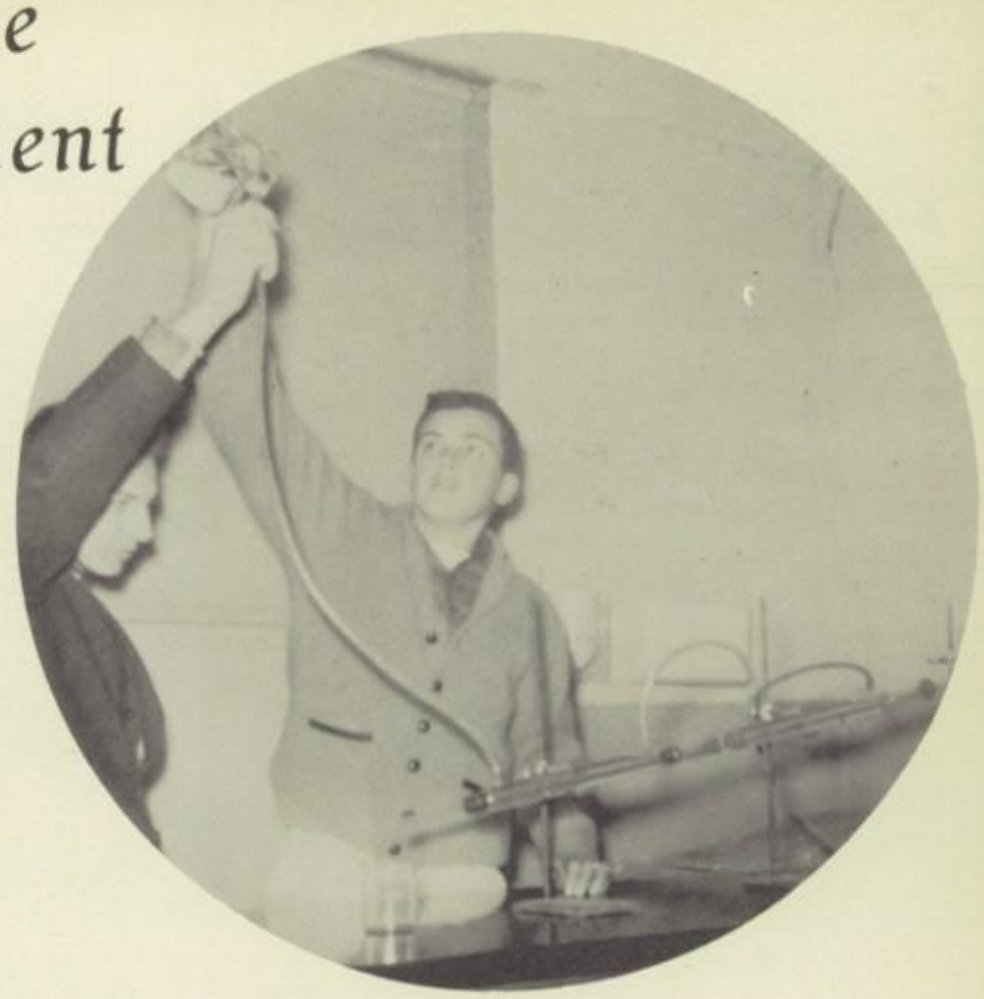
New Additions Were Made To The Science Department

In the last two years, many new additions have been made to the science department. Among these are many detailed plastic models and an equal number of charts dealing with just about every thing connected with science, biology, and physics.

The plastic models, which are of special interest to most students, include one of a leaf section showing the structure of the cells and vascular bundles within the leaf. Among the others are: a stem section, a flower showing its parts, a human body with removable organs, a human brain, a human eye, and a human ear.

Some of the other new equipment includes a model of the sun and the planets revolving around it, an atom form with removable neutrons, protons, and electrons, and a clear plastic sphere showing the relative arrangement of the known stars and constellations.

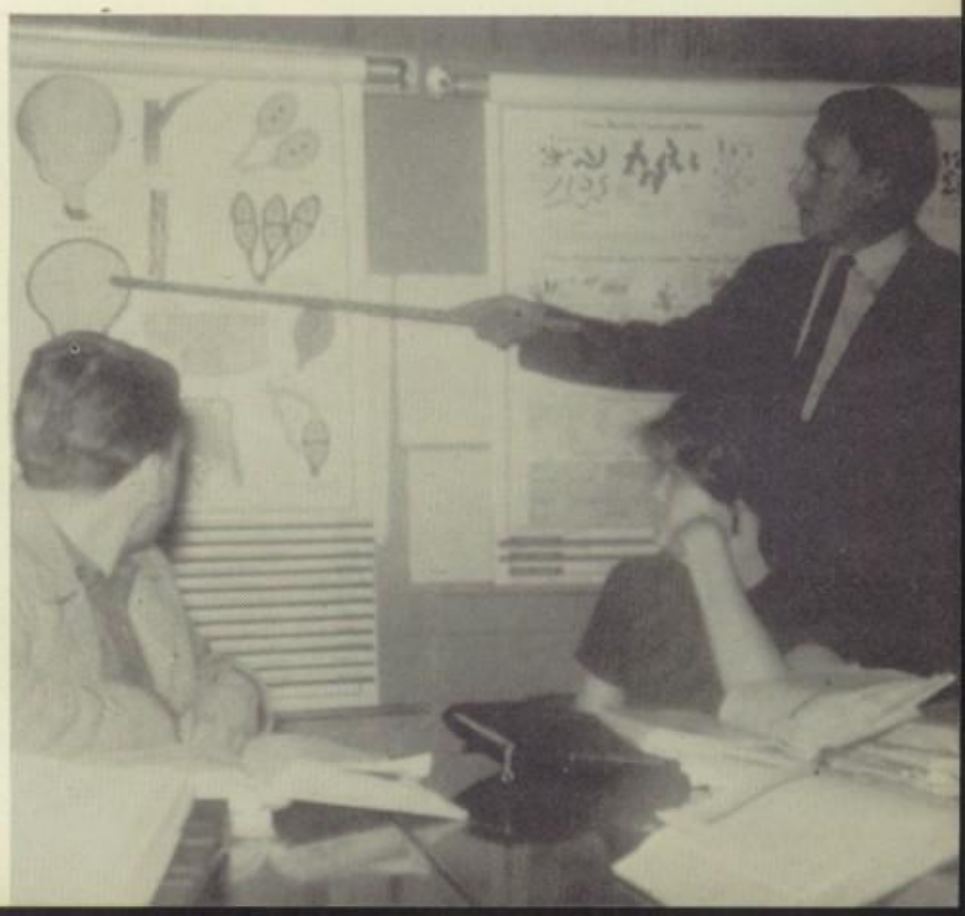
This new equipment makes it possible for the teachers to make the sciences more interesting and appealing to the students who study them. The students themselves find it easier to understand the information in their textbooks when they can see for themselves the models and charts.



John Irvine and Fletcher Lewis are shown operating the distillery which they set up in the science laboratory.

Dianne Barbour and Andy Horton examines a plastic model of a leaf and stem section which is one of the many new models in the lab.

Carlton Keatts and Helen Massie look on as Mr. Reece points out different types of spores on one of the many new science charts.



Physical Education Classes Learned Fundamentals Of Sports

The activities of the physical education classes, both girls' and boys' were many and varied. In addition to conventional exercises to insure physical fitness, the students learned the fundamentals of many seasonal sports and their respective rules for play.

Because of the limited gym space, the girls and boys used the gym on alternate days, meeting on the other days to study health. On Fridays the classes met together using the period for co-educational activities. Among these activities was the learning of the square dance and many other folk dances.

The members of physical education classes took part on Junior Varsity teams and in the traditional intramural tournaments. For these functions they exhibited the knowledge they gained in regular class.

Brosville's physical education instructors were Mr. Gerald Adams, Mr. Charles Myers, Mr. Tom Welborne, Mrs. Gwyneth Barber, and Mrs. Martha Shelton.

Mathmatics And Commercial Courses

There has been an increasing number of students in the last several years who have taken courses in advance mathematics. Mr. Hodges teaches first and second year algebra and plane geometry. Solid geometry and trigonometry, though offered last year, were not available this year due to the fact that there were not enough qualified students.

Brosville's commercial subjects include shorthand, bookkeeping, typing I and II, general business, business English and business math. The general business classes visited the Schooffield Bank for a field trip. There they saw the operations carried on in the bank.

Mr. Hodges, advanced math instructor is shown, in the top photo, illustrating the parts of a circle. In the bottom photo he explains a factoring problem to his algebra class.

The Traditional "Harvest Festival" Began With A Talent Show

The annual Harvest Festival, a traditional school money-making affair, got into swing with a talent show and was climaxed with the crowning of the popularity contest winners.

Throughout the evening the contestants and their managers canvassed the patrons seeking penny votes. Meanwhile those attending enjoyed the games and amusements provided for their benefit. Among these was basketball, shooting, pop-gun shooting, dart throwing, and ball throwing, each with prizes awarded to winners. In addition there was fishing or grab bags at the cost of a dime. Food, including hot dogs, cake, pie, ice cream, and soft drinks was available for purchase in the food room.

Patrons found many bargains in the Country Store. Among these were cakes, pies, canned products, vegetables, candy, cookies, aprons, pot-holders, doilies and many more general store items.

The auditorium was decorated for the affair with fall pumpkins, corn and goards as well as greenery, fall leaves and flowers, and bright colored crepe paper.

The Junior Play Was Presented On November 10th

"The Junior Class is happy to welcome you tonight to its presentation of Miss Mischief," were the words Judy Cook spoke as the play cast nervously awaited the opening of the curtain for their Junior Play. The characters had been chosen early in October and had been rehearsing ever since so that they might give a good performance on November 10. The Junior Play was the biggest money-making project of the class and the financing of the Junior-Senior Banquet depended upon its success.

"Miss Mischief", a comedy in three acts, took place in the office of Camp Foresthaven, a summer school-camp for young ladies. Miss Carter, the camp director, was a young lady of about twenty-five and was determined to make a success of her every undertaking. She ran her camp by strict rules which allowed for no social activities. Everything Dotty Harris, a human Gremlin of fifteen, did seemed to be against the rules. No matter how hard she tried she could never do anything right. The only thing which persuaded Miss Carter to keep her at camp at all was her mother's rather large checks which keep coming in from different parts of the world.

Marian Blake, a college-aged counselor, tried to get Miss Carter to see the campers' points of view, but succeeded only in getting herself on the "outs" with her employer. Although she was very fond of Doctor Joe, she gave up seeing him so that she would not lose her job.

Dotty worked out all the problems and then everyone loved her again and all were glad that Dotty was part of Camp Foresthaven.

Homeroom Classes Held Christmas Parties

Bright Christmas wrappings and bows drew attention to the many packages piled on desks or tucked in bags as the 8:45 bell rang, signifying the opening of school on December 21, the last school day before Christmas. The Christmas spirit pervaded the air as the students could not quite settle down to the usual quietness of homeroom. Several students bustled around making last minute arrangements about refreshments to be served at the parties later in the day.

Nine o'clock came and after the usual morning announcements the students left their homerooms and reported to the gym for the Christmas assembly program. This program being somewhat special, was presented by the Glee Club and Band. Many of the traditional Christmas carols as well as some more popular Christmas music was used. As a special feature the Glee Club presented "The Twelve Days of Christmas" with motions symbolizing the various gifts.

Ten-thirty came. The assembly was now over. Students stood in groups in the classrooms, in the halls, and in the gym. Many of them were eating the refreshments they had just been served while others admired the gifts that they and their friends had received.

Soon the bell rang, hastening students and teachers in their chore of cleaning up after the parties. And then another bell. Students and teachers of Brosville hurried on their way to carry out their plans for Christmas vacation.

Mrs. Shelton, Mr. Hodges, Mr. Heffinger, and Mr. Reece are pictured as they were enjoying the refreshments served at the Junior Class Christmas Party.

Features

Miss Patsy Moss Reigned As Home

Homecoming 1960 was the first such affair under the new lights on Brosville's football field. The Brosville Toppers were victorious over the George Washington Cardinals ("B" Team), and this victory lifted the spirits of the students and provided a desirable atmosphere for the dance following the game.

At half time of the game the Homecoming Queen and her attendants rode onto the playing field in convertibles decorated with crepe paper. After being crowned, Patsy Moss, queen, was presented a bouquet of chrysanthemums. Similiar corsages were presented to the attendants and to the cheerleaders. At the game Patsy and her attendants wore suits and blouses, but they changed into evening dresses for the dance.

The members of the Monogram Club decorated the cafeteria with the names and numbers of the players cut from red and black paper. In addition to this, they used crepe paper streamers and cheerleader and football player silhouettes. John Irvine, a member of the student body played records on his home-made turntable and amplifying set.

Mr. Bauer, principal, presents a bouquet of red roses to Miss Patsy Moss, Senior Sweetheart.

Coming Queen And Senior Sweetheart

After being named Senior Sweetheart, Patsy Moss is photographed standing in front of a chrysanthemum and crepe paper covered trellis.

The first social affair of the season was a dance held by the senior class. The main attraction of the dance was the naming of the Senior Sweetheart. At a class meeting several days before the dance, candidates were nominated for the honor of Senior Sweetheart. The sweetheart was chosen from the nominees by secret ballot of the class. On the day of the dance the winner was informed that she was to be named Senior Sweetheart but she was asked to keep it secret.

When the dance was about half over the candidates were escorted into the cafeteria by senior boys. Mr. Bauer presented a large bouquet of red roses to Patsy Moss, Sweetheart of the Senior class. Her attendants were given nosegays of red carnations. Patsy and her court then enjoyed a special dance with their escorts.

Patsy and attendant Joan McDaniel wore green gowns. The other attendants Linda Walker, Gail Inman, and Norma Keatts wore blue gowns.

The dance was a project of the class to raise money. To help with the fund-raising, refreshments were sold.

The photographer was unable to attend the dance, but the pictures were made by Mr. and Mrs. Moore with their Polaroid.

Eletta McDaniel Was Crowned

The Harvest Festival Royalty were Warren Still, prince; Jan Gillespie, princess; Ronnie Davis, king; and Eletta McDaniel, queen.

Wearing a gown of aqua net and taffeta, sprinkled with sequins, Eletta McDaniel, a member of the freshman class, was crowned queen at Brosville's Harvest Festival. Her crown, fashioned by Mrs. Preston McElheney, was made of white satin and seed pearls. Miss McDaniel was given a large bouquet of red roses tied with red ribbon as well as a small gift. Jan Gillespie, a second grader, was crowned with a similar crown and received a smaller bouquet and also a small gift.

Ronald Davis and Warren Still, king and prince respectively, were crowned with gold foil crowns and were given small gifts.

Each contestant in the popularity contest received a gift for his participation in the contest. The managers of the winning contestants were given gifts for their work.

The managers, as well as the contestants, worked during the weeks preceding the hours prior to the crowning, trying to get votes. The cost of the votes was one cent each. This money went into the Harvest profit and was put to use for instruction equipment for the various classrooms.

The Harvest Festival activity got underway with a talent show directed by Mr. James Heffinger. The show included singing, dancing, comedy skits and reading. First place in the talent contest went to Patsy Moss, Patsy Nowlin, and Barbara Farmer who presented their rendition of Andy Griffith's "Make Yourself Comfortable." Second place was won by Glenn Mumpower for his comedy sketch.

Queen Of The Harvest Festival

Mr. Bauer headed the executive committee for the Harvest Festival, while members of the faculty headed the other committees. The committees and their chairmen were: Door receipts, Mr. Carty; Prizes, Miss Coleman; Advertising, Mr. Bauer; Talent Show, Mr. Heffinger; Decorations, Mrs. Frances H. Moore; Popularity, Mrs. Scearce; Change, Mrs. Soyars and Mrs. Dixon; Clean-up, Mr. Owen; Folk games, Mr. Adams; Floor games; basketball toss, Mr. Hodges; Ring toss, Mr. Powell; Popgun, Mr. Welborne, Fishing, Mrs. Law; Country Store, Mrs. Leftwich; and food, Mrs. Mozelle Oakes.

Receipts for the Harvest Festival totaled $1137.47. After the expenses which came to $290.79, were taken out, a profit of $846.68 was left.

Mr. Bauer is caught by the camera as he places a crown of satin and seed pearls on Eletta McDaniel, Harvest Festival Queen.

Brosville's Top Graduating Seniors

The Dorothea Henry Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution each year presents the good citizenship award to a Brosville senior who possesses the qualities of leadership and character in her home, her school, and her community.

Carrie Lee Wilson was nominated by her fellow classmates and chosen by the members of the faculty to receive the 1961 award. Carrie Lee showed her leadership through her activities as Beta Federation President, and as co-captain of the basketball team.

Sandra Ashworth with a 2.955 average and Joy Davis with 2.954 average received top honors as valedictorian and salutatorian of their class. These averages were maintained through four years of high school work.

Sandra was president of the Brosville Beta Chapter for 1960-61 while Joy served as secretary for the Beta Federation.

Carrie Lee Wilson ranking third in her class was chosen winner of the D.A.R. award.

The football team, coached by Mr. Gerald Adams, ended the season with a record of four wins and five losses. There were fifteen returning lettermen and an equal number of new boys on the team. The junior varsity boys practiced with the varsity and played several games of their own. The new football lights enabled the team to have night games and this increased the attendance. The added attendance brought an increase in the profit gained from football this year.

Cheering Squad Of 1960-61

Several weeks before school closed last spring cheerleading tryouts were held. After the tryout, the teachers cast their votes for the ten cheerleaders of their choice. The votes were tallied and the cheerleading team for the 1960-61 season was announced at the last assembly of the year. All the girls were new to cheerleading and were from the following classes: three freshmen; six sophomores; and one junior.

The cheering team met three times during the summer and every day the first week of school. Several former cheerleaders came to the practice sessions and worked with the new girls. In addition to perfecting the traditional Brosville cheers, the cheerleading team learned many new cheers and even composed a "hello" cheer using the names of all the cheerleaders.

The 1960-61 cheerleaders showed more enthusiasm in their cheering than has been shown in recent years. They also exhibited commendable sportsmanship during the football and basketball games.

The cheerleaders, under the direction of their sponsor, Miss Ellen Coleman, prepared a booklet of Brosville cheers and yells for each member of the student body. They did this to encourage the spectators to yell with the cheerleaders at the games.

Brosville cheerleaders finish their cheer with a jump as they urge the teams on to victory.

The Brosville Lady Toppers started their 1960-61 season a little slow as they lost their opener with Chatham by a score of 56 - 64, but as the season progressed they demonstrated their utmost skill and ability as they tied with the Gretna Hens for seeding in Group II of Pittsylvania County.

Although the Brosville girls lost five of their fifteen games, they won six of the eight games in district competition, which qualified them for the district tournaments. Their two district losses were to William Campbell and Gretna. The Brosville girls lost their second game on their home court in four years this season. This loss was to Climax by one point.

Carrie Lee Wilson finished the season second-high scorer in the county with a total of 589 points, an average of 39.3 points per game. She was aided by forwards Patsy Daniels and Katherine Still.

Patsy Daniels, forward for Lady Toppers, is shown ready to pass the ball to another player while being guarded by Melody Saunders, (20), a member of Dan River's team.

"Toppers" Have Winning Season

The Brosville Toppers, after a long season of many wins and some losses, ended up in top position in Pittsylvania County, Group II. Although the team lost many of its players from last season, it made a comeback, with Mr. Charles Myers as its coach, and had the best season recorded in the last several years.

The team had an overall record of 9 wins and 8 losses, but it had a very good district record of six wins and three losses.

Second row: Lawrence Stophel, Wayne Cobb, Ronnie Jones, Jerry Stone, Mr. Welborne, coach; Skippy Eanes, Keister Richardson and David Long.

Brosville's Jay Vee Basketball Team

The Junior varsity basketball team was made up of eighth and ninth grade boys this year. They practice on the days when the varsity teams were not using the gym.

J.V. games were scheduled with teams from area school as often as possible. Although the boys played with great enthusiasm, they were outclassed most of the time and lost all but two of their games. The J.V. team won over the Callands J.V.'s and the Whitmell J.V.'s.

Mr. Welborne coached the J.V. team and Danny DeHart served as manager.

Mr. Hodges and Sandra Ashworth were the official timekeeper and scorekeeper for the 1960-61 basketball season.
